Ex-Mayor Dunn of Chicago Files Affidavits in Making Charges.

Says There Was Fraud and Collusion in Method of Securing It.

Second Husband Secured Annulment Because of Situation.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CHICAGO. June 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Charges that a decree of divorce obtained by Grace E. Guggenheim in Marion W. Steinberger, head of the so-called "Emmett Trust," was obtained through fraud and collusion, were before Judge Honore this afternoon and were followed by a rule on the principals to show cause why the decree should not be set aside. Ex-Mayor Edward F. Dunn appeared in court with five affidavits in which the alleged fraud is detailed.

The decree was obtained before Judge Dunn while he was sitting on the circuit bench and he told Judge Honore that he was convinced that fraud had been practiced in court.

"This decree was obtained through fraud and conspiracy," Mr. Dunn declared. "At the time both were residents of New York, but the complainant was induced to come to Chicago to sue for divorce, in violation of the statutes of Illinois, she came here in 1901 and registered at one of the hotels where she remained for a few days.

"She then returned to New York and later again visited Chicago. In the meantime the defendant had been noticed to come to New York and ground was laid and the court, believing he had jurisdiction, heard the testimony and granted the decree."

The complainant also charges that Mrs. Guggenheim and her supposed attorney, Lewis Werner of New York, conspired to practice a fraud on the DENVER. June 8.—Flood water in the streams of Colorado and Wyoming has caused many thousands of dollars in damage to crops and delayed railroad traffic throughout both States.

It is reported from Greeley, Colo., that 100 cars of grain were lost yesterday when a bridge across the Colorado River agreed not to marry. The water is now flowing over the tracks and is expected to continue to do so for some time.

Both men and women are working in the fields to help the farmers. The water is now flowing over the tracks and is expected to continue to do so for some time.

BIG SUGAR TRUST SUIT IS SETTLED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK. June 8.—The $20,000 suit of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company against the American Sugar Refining Company, the so-called trust, was settled out of court tonight.

The terms of the settlement were not made public.

The plaintiff charged, in effect, that it had been driven out of business.

Witnesses testified that Adolph Segel of Philadelphia, controlling power of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company, borrowed from Gustav A. Kissel, Parsons and three clerks of the former, Twiss, Robinson and Werner, were made co-defendants with the American Sugar Refining Company on the conspiracy charge, but on motion of a lawyer appearing especially in behalf of the three clerks, the complaint against them was dismissed to a mistrial.

The details will not be made public until after ratification by the Pennsylvania court that appointed George E. Earle, Jr., receiver of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company. If such ratification is not made the case will have to be retried.

With the power thus conferred, Kissel, it was alleged, installed himself and three of his clerks as directors of the independent sugar company, and having control of the directors, he obtained the adoption of a resolution providing that the then almost completed refinery, which is said to be one of the most economical ever built, should not be opened or operated until further orders.

That resolution, the plaintiff contended, was drafted by John E. Twiss, president of the sugar trust, for whom it showed Gustav A. Kissel, the leader, also as a partner.

Kissel, Parsons and three clerks of the former, Twiss, Robinson and Werner, were made co-defendants with the American Sugar Refining Company on the conspiracy charge, but on motion of a lawyer appearing especially in behalf of the three clerks, the complaint against them was dismissed to a mistrial.

His bride is Miss Marie Nordstrom, leading woman of the "Mary Jane's Fan" company, and Mr. Dixey journeyed to New York from the West tonight.

Just where the marriage occurred is not divulged by either party. Not even the fact that they had been a marriage before is known. Mr. Dixey and some intimate friends worked it out of him at the Lamb's Club tonight.

He confessed that Miss Nordstrom had been Mrs. Dixey for some days before the couple eloped at Milwaukee last Saturday night.

FIND HEADQUARTERS OF THE BLACK HAND.

Postoffice Inspectors Locate Central Nest of Blackmailers at Marion, O., and Get Documentary Evidence. Three Arrests Made for One Crime.

INCINNATI. June 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Simultaneous arrests in Marion, Columbus and Dayton, O., today, of three Italians by Post-office inspectors of the Cincinnati office under the direction of Inspector in Charge Holmes. It is believed will bring up the gang of "Black Hand" mail robbers, who, it is claimed, are members of the Knights of Columbus, which has been operating in Cincinnati and other cities of the country.

The arrests were made after a search of six months for the men who sent threatening letters to John Amicon, a fruit dealer of Columbus. The handwriting in the letters sent to Amicon is identical with that in the letters received by Antonio Rizzo, the fruit dealer who died suddenly some weeks ago.

Last January the wife of Amicon found on the doorstep of their home in Marion a box containing a stick of dynamite and a bunch of matches. In the box was a note demanding the sum of $10,000,000, and a threatening letter.

A few days later a letter was received through the mails repeating threats of death by dynamite, shooting and other forms of violence if the demands of the writers were not complied with. The letter and a number of others which followed were turned over to Inspector Holmes, who is detailed to investigate the Knights of Columbus in the case, resulting in the arrests made today.

The prisoners are Sam Lima, Marion, O.; Antonio Vilaro, Columbus, and A. Marti, Dennisin, O., according to telegrams received by Inspector Holmes.

A dispatch from Marion states that Joe Rizzo was also arrested in that city.

The postoffice inspectors claim that they have discovered evidence showing that Marion is the headquarters of all of the Black Hand societies of the country and that Sam Lima is the head of the organization. The contents of the safe in the Rizzo store, which was opened by the inspectors, bear them out in this regard.

They also say they found that hundreds of business men in all parts of the State have been paying tribute to the gang.

Arrests are said to have been made also in Pittsburgh, and inspectors left for Bellefontaine to make several more.

Mrs. Sage Has Given Many Millions.

Great Fortune of Astute Financier Going Twenty-five Thousand Daily.

Plan to Insure Workingmen Calls Attention to the Widow's Charity.

Year's Investigation Abroad and at Home May Lead to National Fund.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK. June 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) In less than three years Mrs. Russell Sage has spent more than $25,000,000 for public purposes and the benefit of mankind. The recent investigation abroad of the question of workingmen's insurance and the establishment of a gigantic employment bureau call attention anew to her pro jects. It took Russell Sage forty years to get $25,000,000. This great sum represented the pinching and scraping together of what amounted to $400 a day for the lifetime of the astute financier.

Mrs. Sage is now giving away the fortune at the rate of $25,000 a day. If the widow continues her charities at the same pace she will all within five years. Consideration of the financier's power to make money with Mrs. Sage's faculty of giving it away shows that the widow is giving away $25,000 a day for the lifetime of the astute financier.

"Large" as Mrs. Russell Sage's fortune is it would hardly cover the cost of insuring all of the workingmen in America today," said John M. Gleason, secretary and director of the $10,000,000 Russell Sage Foundation, when asked concerning a rumor that the widow of the great financier contemplated endowing a great insurance for American workingmen.

CAREFUL STUDY.

"But with funds from the Sage Foundation we have conducted a careful study of workingmen's insurance at home and abroad," he added. "The work has been going on for over a year under the direction of Dr. Leo K. Frankel, formerly general manager of the United Hebrew Charities, assisted by Miles M. Dawson, the well-known attorney. These gentlemen will shortly make their report."

Dr. Frankel and Mr. Dawson have visited Germany, France, Britain and England. The wide inquiry into all forms of workingmen's insurance. The result of their investigation will be far-reaching, and it is regarded as not at all improbable that Mrs. Sage, in cooperation with some of the large employers of this country, will subscribe to the installation of a real workingmen's insurance, possibly compulsory on the insurers and under government supervision.

When Mrs. Sage, after the death of her husband, set about distributing her wealth, the causes of education and religion and the amelioration of human misery appealed most strongly to her. To educational institutions she has recently given $25,000,000, religious organizations something like $2,000,000, the Sage Foundation $10,000,000, while the remainder has gone to works of a semi-religious and educational character.

Mrs. Sage has tried to place her money where it would do the greatest good to the greatest number.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, June 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Little "Bilie" McClintock, with $20,000,000 all his own, is the most unhappy child in Chicago today. Stocks and bonds and fabulous sums of money at his disposal mean nothing to this 6-year-old child, who has neither father nor mother, sister nor brother, nor any one near and dear to him.

Surrounded by all the luxury that money can buy, looking out of richly-curtained windows at the lake waters that moaned drearily, the little fellow who begged that his mother, who lay dead in an adjoining room, might come to life again and come more call him her "dear little mite."

Mrs. William McClintock, who died Monday, left Billie a fortune of $4,000,000. His father was killed in an auto accident two years ago.

The fortune came from a man who never heard of the boy's mother. Years ago, the father of the boy married Mrs. Sarah Hickling, who soon left him a fortune of $4,000,000 by her husband's will.

McClintock died a few years later, leaving her wealth to his husband. Two years later, Mr. McClintock married Alice Esterine, widow of Poppy. When Mr. McClintock died he left the fortune, which had been increased to $10,000,000, to his widow.

BRITONS DISCUSS NAVY.

Foreign Secretary and First Lord of Admiralty Adopt Serious Tone at Press Conference.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] LONDON, June 8.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna, first lord of the admiralty. Foreign Secretary Sir Edwin Gray also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy.

"If the navy fails," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to do anything else." He added:

He called attention to the serious tone taken by Lord Rosebery in his recent speech to the press men and was indignant every word of his address. Continuing, Sir Edward summed up the policy of the Foreign Office as follows:

To keep what we have got; to consolidate and develop; to quarrel as little as possible with people and to uphold in the conduct of the world the ideals of Great Britain. With so much at stake the maintenance of the navy must be the first view, not only for the home government, but for all the self-governing dominions of the empire.

In conclusion the Foreign Secretary said the present excessive expenditures for armaments made the political weather sultry.

Mr. McKenna also spoke in a serious strain. He said he saw the possibility of the empire being called upon to unite its whole strength in the common defense of the home country. He declared he would assist the development of the local navies of the empire in defense of the empire and his power, as the maintenance of supremacy on any sea meant supremacy on all seas.

The balloon swept down toward the ship, approaching as close as the almost foul the foremast rigging. As it was about to graze the mast a sand bag was thrown out and the balloon rose slightly and gradually moving toward the Potdam it was out of sight. There were two men in the car who made no intelligible response to efforts made to communicate with them.

The body of Miss Julia Duncan, sister of J. H. Duncan, the postmaster here, was found at the bottom of the river. The body of a 14-year-old daughter, Meryl, was recovered from the water this morning. Searchers brought the body of Mrs. W. F. Nixon to the surface late this afternoon. All of the bodies were found within forty feet of the place where the accident occurred.

Finally the wires were cut and both men dropped to the ground, dying soon afterward. Bloodsworth became entangled in the wires and Weekly attempted to rescue him.

announcement of the contract in France on the ground that the Chicago decree was invalid.

The complainant's affidavit attested before a New York notary, March 2, covers sixteen pages. She says she met Guggenheim in June, 1910, and that he followed her about until she consented to marry him. She was forced to keep their marriage secret, she says, as Guggenheim's family was Jewish and she was a Christian, and he was afraid his family would not give its consent. They lived at the Burley Manhattan, New York, until December, 1910, when Guggenheim, who says, told her she had decided to leave him, as his family was unalterably opposed to their marriage.

REFUSED SOUTH DAKOTA.

The defendant then went to Europe. After many efforts to get Guggenheim to return to her, the complainant says, she finally consented to sue for a divorce on the advice of Daniel Guggenheim, one of the defendant's brothers. It was suggested that she go to South Dakota for four months and file suit there, but she refused. It finally was decided that the suit should be filed in Chicago.

After the decree was obtained, the complainant says, she returned to New York and soon afterward married Wahl. When he obtained an annulment of their marriage, she believed herself free to marry again. On consulting her attorney, she was advised that the Chicago divorce was void, and that she was still Guggenheim's wife.

SENATORS IN WOOL DEBATE.

Dolliver Is Central Figure in Discussion.

Senator Carter Gives Technical Lecture.

Smoot Stands for Protection of Industry.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Much good humor and many peregrinations were injected into the debate on the woolen schedule in the Senate today.

Mr. Dolliver, the central figure, offered several amendments and announced his intention of presenting others appealing to the Republicans members to vote with him. He said these amendments would modify the attitude of the Republican party in advocating a protective tariff.

Mr. Smoot, assisted to a large extent by Mr. Warren, who is considered an expert on the woolen industry, defended the Finance Committee's recommendations with regard to the woolen schedule.

The various amendments proposed to the House bill by the Finance Committee are intended to restore the Dingley provisions of the woolen schedule, which, in some instances, provide higher duties than does the Payne bill.

One of the interesting features was a lecture on the woolen industry from beginning to end by Mr. Carter, who brought forth a lame bird filled with all the various grades of wool from the Senators who gathered about him, he explained each step in the manufacture of woolen goods, from the raw material to the finished garment.

He familiarized members of the Senate with the uses of shoddy, waste, soils, tops and various grades of wool.

Mr. Dolliver proposed an amendment that would assess the duties on woolens on an ad valorem basis, according to the shrinkage of the wool.

DOLLIVER VERSUS WARREN.

Much amusement was afforded when Mr. Dolliver, who is a lawyer, was involved in a colloquy in which they stood within a few feet of one another and each endeavored to convince the other of the soundness of his opinion regarding the assessment of assessments on the value of the wool in the cloth.

Taking up the first amendment proposed by the Committee on Finance, Senator Dolliver opposed the increase over the general rate, but proposed a return to the Dingley rates on top waste, proving waste, etc., of an increase from 20 to 30 cents per pound, with the Finance Committee's original purpose of reestablishing the Dingley rates throughout the woolen schedule.

In defense of the higher rates, Senator Warren explained the propriety of maintaining the Dingley duties. Referring to the fact that the Wyoming senator had referred to the owners of a great many sheep, Senator Dolliver declared that he was the greatest shepherd since Abraham.

Amending the personal ownership of a single sheep, or a home-owned horse, he kept for personal use, Mr. Warren added that he was a stockholder in companies engaged in such industries before he was in railroad com-

ADVOCATES AD VALOREM.

Mr. Dolliver had read several memorials of carded wool manufacturers asking for an ad valorem duty as the just method for protecting all parties interested in the wool business.

He argued that the admission in this country of top waste and kindred wool supplanted just that amount of American wool. Mr. Warren said the rates and duties were come into the United States under the lower duties advocated by the Senator from Iowa.

Mr. Dolliver replied that it was better for the country to have the higher rates than no woolen clothing at all.

Mr. Smoot declared that he knew the woolen industry had largely expired because of the change of fashion from woolen clothing.

Mr. Dolliver suggested the grading of duties on wool according to its shrinkage, claiming that because such method is no longer used, there is a shrinkage in charges paid by importers. Saying that this plan would be infinitely better than the present system, Senator Carter still objected to it.

It was agreed to open the entire wool schedule to consideration in conference, and he could not approve such a course.

CARTER FOR REVISION.

While declaring that the woolen schedule should be revised, and asserting that he favored Mr. Dolliver's proposition, Senator Carter said he feared that such revision should take place at this time, because he feared it might meet disaster in conference.

Mr. Smoot declared Mr. Dolliver's amendment was impossible of adoption, as all manufacturers want their wool in the greasy, and no two manufacturers scour their wool by the same process.

Mr. Nelson argued that the woolen schedule was the most ancient in the tariff, and declared its ad valorem equivalent was higher than that in any other schedule. He said the entire woolen schedule should be revised, and that it did violence against the wool grower of the Mississippi Valley and in favor of the mountain sheep rancher.

Mr. Dolliver said it had been proved that the woolen contents of the wool could be determined by certain scientific tests.

Mr. Warren said there was no expert who would come within a pin's head of guessing the shrinkage of wool.

Senators Dolliver and Warren carried on a colloquy for more than an hour, personally agreeing on the differences on the woolen schedule.

LITTLE WOOL IN CLOTHES.

Declaring against the practice of assessing the excise duty on the entire cloth, although it had only a small percentage of wool in it, Mr. Dolliver said he would propose a duty on the value of the wool in the cloth.

Meeting this opposition, the Wyoming senator illustrated the duty on a small suit of clothing by the garments he wore, declaring that the cloth in them cost only $4, while the making cost $20, so the duty on $20, the duty on that $4 worth of cloth, he said, was trifling compared with the value of the suit.

Declaring that he would ask the Senate from Wyoming to join him in voting for a provision that no duty in the pending bill should be more than 100 per cent, Senator Dolliver said he wanted to "make ready for the fight that is coming between the Republican party and our tariff system."

Senator Smoot, interposing, said that while such a provision might appear reasonable, it had happened in the wool industry that the raw product had dropped to 5 and 6 cents a pound, and in such a case a duty of 100 per cent. would have flooded the country with foreign wool, and would have been inadequate to protect the industry.

VETO RUMOR UNFOUNDED.

PRESIDENT NOT OPPOSED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Senate and House leaders, who are directing the course of the tariff bill through Congress and will be members of the Conference Committee after the bill has passed the Senate, took measures today to ascertain whether there was any foundation for reports that President Taft would veto the bill.

They have concluded that there is no basis for such reports.

Special Cannon, Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne individually have been to the White House several times in the last few days. They say that if President Taft takes the bill through the Senate, he will be members of the Conference Committee after the bill has passed the Senate, took measures today to ascertain whether there was any foundation for reports that President Taft would veto the bill.

As late as this evening, the President told one of the Republican leaders that no one in the Cabinet had any idea what had in mind the veto of the bill.

Mr. Aldrich talked with the President for some time today. When he returned to the Capitol, he said the President did not appear to be at all perturbed about the tariff situation, and that he had expressed confidence in the members of the Finance Committee.

It was upon the highest authority that President Taft had not read the Chicago speech of Secretary MacVeagh before the Secretary left Washington for Chicago, and that he had not been aware of the character of the speech.

This answers the report that the speech was an official view of the tariff situation and that it expressed Mr. Taft's opinion.

The various amendments proposed to the House bill by the Finance Committee are intended to restore the Dingley provisions of the woolen schedule, which, in some instances, provide higher duties than does the Payne bill.

One of the interesting features was a lecture on the woolen industry from beginning to end by Mr. Carter, who brought forth a lame bird filled with all the various grades of wool from the Senators who gathered about him, he explained each step in the manufacture of woolen goods, from the raw material to the finished garment.

He familiarized members of the Senate with the uses of shoddy, waste, soils, tops and various grades of wool.

Mr. Dolliver proposed an amendment that would assess the duties on woolens on an ad valorem basis, according to the shrinkage of the wool.

DOLLIVER VERSUS WARREN.

Much amusement was afforded when Mr. Dolliver, who is a lawyer, was involved in a colloquy in which they stood within a few feet of one another and each endeavored to convince the other of the soundness of his opinion regarding the assessment of assessments on the value of the wool in the cloth.

Taking up the first amendment proposed by the Committee on Finance, Senator Dolliver opposed the increase over the general rate, but proposed a return to the Dingley rates on top waste, proving waste, etc., of an increase from 20 to 30 cents per pound, with the Finance Committee's original purpose of reestablishing the Dingley rates throughout the woolen schedule.

In defense of the higher rates, Senator Warren explained the propriety of maintaining the Dingley duties. Referring to the fact that the Wyoming senator had referred to the owners of a great many sheep, Senator Dolliver declared that he was the greatest shepherd since Abraham.

Amending the personal ownership of a single sheep, or a home-owned horse, he kept for personal use, Mr. Warren added that he was a stockholder in companies engaged in such industries before he was in railroad com-

ADVOCATES AD VALOREM.

Mr. Dolliver had read several memorials of carded wool manufacturers asking for an ad valorem duty as the just method for protecting all parties interested in the wool business.

He argued that the admission in this country of top waste and kindred wool supplanted just that amount of American wool.

He familiarized members of the Senate with the uses of shoddy, waste, soils, tops and various grades of wool.

Mr. Dolliver suggested the grading of duties on wool according to its shrinkage, claiming that because such method is no longer used, there is a shrinkage in charges paid by importers.

Saying that this plan would be infinitely better than the present system, Senator Carter still objected to it.

It was agreed to open the entire wool schedule to consideration in conference, and he could not approve such a course.

CARTER FOR REVISION.

While declaring that the woolen schedule should be revised, and asserting that he favored Mr. Dolliver's proposition, Senator Carter said he feared that such revision should take place at this time, because he feared it might meet disaster in conference.

Mr. Smoot declared Mr. Dolliver's amendment was impossible of adoption, as all manufacturers want their wool in the greasy, and no two manufacturers scour their wool by the same process.

Mr. Nelson argued that the woolen schedule was the most ancient in the tariff, and declared its ad valorem equivalent was higher than that in any other schedule. He said the entire woolen schedule should be revised, and that it did violence against the wool grower of the Mississippi Valley and in favor of the mountain sheep rancher.

Mr. Dolliver said it had been proved that the woolen contents of the wool could be determined by certain scientific tests.

Mr. Warren said there was no expert who would come within a pin's head of guessing the shrinkage of wool.

Senators Dolliver and Warren carried on a colloquy for more than an hour, personally agreeing on the differences on the woolen schedule.

Declaring against the practice of assessing the excise duty on the entire cloth, although it had only a small percentage of wool in it, Mr. Dolliver said he would propose a duty on the value of the wool in the cloth.

Declaring that he would ask the Senate from Wyoming to join him in voting for a provision that no duty in the pending bill should be more than 100 per cent, Senator Dolliver said he wanted to "make ready for the fight that is coming between the Republican party and our tariff system."

Senator Smoot, interposing, said that while such a provision might appear reasonable, it had happened in the wool industry that the raw product

INDICT KANE FOR MURDER.
Grand Jury Action Eight Hours After Crime.
Kane's Wife Springs at Witness in Court.

Evidence of Plot to Kill Is Yet Found.

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
ST. LOUIS, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At 7 o'clock tonight, less than two hours after the Coroner's jury Thomas (Billy) Kane responsible for the death of Fred H. Mohr, whom he shot and killed in the corridor of an courthouse, where Mohr was on trial for killing Samuels, Young, the wealthy Wangard and Kane's Defense Agent, Kane was indicted for murder in the first degree for killing Mohr.

The indictment was returned after witnesses were heard, many prisoners and members of the gang, and broke the record speed in returning indictments in recent years.

In official Four Courts, where the grand juries sat, said at the conclusion of their session of the grand jury, there was no evidence of a plot to kill Mohr, which could be found in the testimony, and, as far as the jury is concerned, the investigation is ended.

Officially, given at the Coroner's office, it was stated that Constable Mike Kinney, of the State Police, thought Kane had "designed" to kill Mohr. This statement was not substantiated.

Mike Kinney passed the door of the courtroom, where she sat, she turned toward him, but men seized her and forced her back into her chair.

Police Commissioners conferred on the Coroner's decision, and it was decided to let the verdict that "murder to be a common crime in itself," which could be presented under efforts by officials.

PROUD CHILDREN.

FLOWERS AND FOWLS
DELIGHT TO PARENTS.

Boy Giving a Clever Demonstration.

Jesse Stringer and his actual wireless telegraph receiving messages in the exhibit hall, Fourteenth-street school.

The Fourteenth-street school building was crowded yesterday with proud parents of proud children. There were exhibits ofloyd work and flowers, vegetables and fowls raised by the young people.

The boys, with a large display of furniture, and with machinery in operation, attracted the attention of visitors, and the girls' needlework was on exhibition, the neatness and delicacy of some of the work being of great skill. A long table, covered with plain and fancy dishes, would have done credit to a good cook, delighted equally old and young.

As a result of the children's garden movement, for the first time attempting to grow their own vegetables, was gratifying to teachers. Almost every kind of vegetable was represented.

An exhibit of fowls was perhaps the most interesting in the history of any school, and the birds themselves were not pets, destined for the market.

A wireless telegraph apparatus used by a small boy, Garnet Stringer, was duly admired. It is connected with the wires of the Bell Telephone company, and has a projector attached to the top of the frame on the school building. The electrician has become quite popular and on Monday, caught a prize in the Catalina state competition.

Palmer, another small boy, has an electric railway, the parts of which he made himself, except the dynamo. A single child had in operation a small steam engine, the whole of which, including boiler, had been made by him, and only a few of the instruments.

Bouelle, principal of the school, has held that position for years. A year ago his school was in an old building and a number of rooms were occupied. On the site that was occupied by the old school, a splendid new building was erected and was occupied first at the end of the present term. There is an enrollment of more than 1,000 pupils.

The school is one of the best in the city. The principal's

CARS AT KANSAS CITY.
Little Ford Runabout Leads on Hard Grind—Others Make Excellent Showings.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two Ford four-cylinder runabouts, the smallest cars in the Coast-to-Coast endurance race which started in New York one week ago today, arrived here this afternoon little worse for their experience than a simple puncture of the tire.

H. G. Harper of the Ford Motor Company of Detroit was in charge of car No. 1 and C. W. Scott also of the Ford company was in charge of the second car. With them as drivers were Frank Kulick and C. J. Smith, both of Detroit.

The run was made from St. Louis in less than twenty-one hours, the cars leaving that city at 8:30 o'clock the night before. A stop of fifteen minutes was made at St. Louis, during which time breakfast was eaten. According to Harper the Ford cars were first in every control since leaving Erie, Pa., with the one exception of Centralia, where the Acme car arrived first.

The Acme car was passed somewhere on the road between Centralia and Kansas City.

The two Fords are leading. They reached here at 5:35 this evening. An hour later the Acme and Shawmut cars also arrived. The Fords were only a few minutes ahead at Glasgow, Mo., but reached the Missouri River first, in consequence the other cars were delayed. The racers will leave for the West early tomorrow.

"I am feeling as good as I know I ever felt so you can be assured Tuesday for me," he said. "Tomorrow morning I will patch up any of the flaws there may be in my speed. I expect to knock out O'Brien in the first few rounds. It took me until the tall end of ten rounds to catch him the last time and now it is only a question of crowding the same amount of fighting in the six rounds. My training to this time has been with a view to accomplishing that."

"O'Brien is said to be the fastest six-round man in the ring and most of the experts, I see, say there is no one who can whip him in six rounds. I will show these experts tomorrow night that O'Brien will be out of the game before the six rounds have been finished."

GRIM REAPER ENDS HER SUIT

FOR HALF AN HOUR AFTER DEATH WAS MADE HER EFFORTS FUTILE. MRS. SARAH W.
WHITNEY OF Pasadena fought in the Superior Court yesterday morning before Judge E. C. Cook from preventing her from visiting her husband, G. A.
Whitney, who was then believed to be alive but critically ill at the California Hospital.

ABOUT 11 o'clock, she arose from her seat in the courtroom, smiling and flushed with seeming first victory in the legal proceedings, as the court had appointed Dr. E. R. Smith and H. G.
Brainerd to visit Mr. Whitney and ascertain if it would harm the patient to have his wife to see him, as Dr.
Cook, the attending physician, contended.

Scarcely had Mrs. Whitney left the courtroom when the tidings came that her husband had died at 10:30 o'clock, and the last words he uttered were his height. When the court was informed of the death, he ordered the bailiffs to notify Dr. Smith and Brainerd that their appointment was canceled.

The widow spent the afternoon after consultation with members of the family, began to make arrangements for the funeral. The plans were not completed, however, as the body was removed after fulfilling his most sacred promise.

IN THE FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR.
Fritz Hauser and Hans Ackerman fought side by side. This continued for six years, when they were made non-commissioned officers and retired. Their wives and children lived in the same German village whence the two husbands set forth. They were unable to find jobs as iron workers. They sent for their wives and twenty years ago the two families had homes in old Greenwich village. Mrs. Hauser died and Fritz went to live with the Ackermanns.

The Post Office Department has nominated the following postmen that sixteen clerks will be added to the Los Angeles office during this year. Ten will begin work July 1, three October 1 and three the last of December.

Poor Road, No Delivery.

Until the county road extending from present avenue is put in better condition, the Post Office Department will not install rural delivery route No. 12. The local office is trying to give better mail facilities in the vicinity of La Canada and Glendale. The Board of Supervisors will be asked to improve the highway.

For New Revenue Office.

Claude Parker, the revenue collector for the new district, which includes the country south of the Tehachapi, reported a bus load of supporters for his office while "I'll open" signs were five Armenians for complicity in the massacres at Adams last April.

First Ward Improvement.

The South Improvement Association held a largely-attended meeting in the First Ward last night, to discuss the plan of Councilman Dromgold for the improvement of the ward by districts. The association voted to support the meeting, and accordingly they will ask that the district bring just east of the river be paved with asphalt and vitrified brick.

Property Owners to Meet.

A meeting of property owners interested in the proposed widening and other changes in Main Street has been called for tonight at Fourth and Broad streets. The contemplated widening is between Alameda street and the bridge which runs over the railroads and river. The straightening of the trolley line is also a feature of the proposed change.

Girl Victim of Accident.

Betty Schwartz, 12 years of age, of No. 725 Turner street, was the victim of an unusual accident late night while attending a moving-picture show at the Wilshire theater. The girl, with her parents, was seated near a small box compartment in which the apparatus for the manipulation of the pictures was stationed. A three-pound coil of wire became detached from the apparatus and fell from the ceiling, striking the girl on the head and inflicting a deep laceration. She was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Death of Bright Young Woman.

Esther Pauline Freyber, a talented young woman, died at the home of her parents, Mrs. E. F. Freyber, No. 1666 Girard street, at an early hour yesterday morning, where the funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Christian Science Church. The deceased was a graduate of the Los Angeles High school and afterwards went to San Francisco to study art. She was about 20 years old and had returned home sick and has been failing steadily since that time. She was a sister of M. Paul Freyber, and also leaves a sister in the city.

Memorials.

CHOPIN-GILLET. Roy E. Coates, aged 24, a native of Indiana and a resident of Los Angeles, and Martha Riley, aged 24, a native of Illinois, were married by officials of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange from Washington, D. C., where Mr. Kendall went last February, in the interest of the growers or the State. They left San Francisco on higher trolley on all citrus fruits which resulted in favorable action of Congress, so were so ardent that they caused his physical collapse and temporary fumigation. As soon as he is able to travel, Mr. Kendall will return home with his wife, who went to the capital to be with him during his illness.

BREVITIES.

To "Liner" Advertisers: Dating from June 1st, classified advertising in the Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday. Close care will be taken in the preparation of several months to determine the fact that the average number of words to the line is a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1st. The word "advertiser" has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it. The present "want" ad rate has been in effect for years, through the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 50,000 Sunday, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States can afford to compete with The Times in "want" ad service. The Times-Mirror Company.

Remember the slogan: "Buy and Do Home Products." For daily references, see page II, Part II, of The Times, containing list of wide-awake manufacturers under the heading "Made in Southern California." There are none better. Buy and Do Home Products and keep your money at home where it will do you and yours the most good!

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

By reason of the referendum petition attacking the telephone rate ordinance city officials do not know what rates, if any, will govern the companies after July 1; the ordinance will be voted on in December.

The wife of former Assemblyman Howard A. Broughton was granted a decree of divorce yesterday on the ground of desertion.

The jurors disagreed in the case of "Arizona Jack" Allen, charged with murder, and he will be retried.

Lillian Charnock Price Smead brought an action yesterday to quiet title to 300 acres owned by her at Palms, in which Mrs. Gertrude Driggs claims interest.

Judge Rivers overruled the motion to nonsuit in the case involving the "lost will" of the late C. K. Wood, and the action will proceed tomorrow.

MORE LIGHT ON FREAK LAW.

CITY ATTORNEY DUBIOUS ABOUT TELEPHONE RATES.

Referendum Petition Suspends Ordinance Fixing Prices and Question as to What Will Govern After July is "Nixie" One—Will Vote in December.

The Council, particularly that eminent realist, Mr. Wallace, got further illumination on the subject of the referendum yesterday, when the City Attorney brought up the petition affecting the ordinance fixing telephone rates. It was for the Council either to accept the ordinance or to suspend its operation until the December election, when the people may vote on it.

If the Council repealed the ordinance the outcome would be necessarily, and most of the Councilmen believe it would be defeated. Not to repeal is to suspend its operation pending the election six months hence. Dromgoolen, who seriously believed the ordinance had no merit, said the polls the shortest course would be to repeal it. But Dromgoolen is the only one who voted for this course, and the repealing ordinance was lost.

After it had been referred to the December election Wallace asked the City Attorney: "When this ordinance has been defeated, if it is, will the telephone rates remain as they were before the ordinance was passed by this Council in April?"

The City Attorney gasped. Then he smiled. But Wallace pressed his question.

"I can see that it is likely to raise some nice legal questions," said the City Attorney.

But Wallace persisted and the City Attorney finally said he believes the rates will remain as they were until the ordinance is defeated in the polls. He held that the rate-fixing power of the Council is a continuing one, and that the Council could, in case the rates first fixed were invalidated for any reason, fix a new one.

"But I am now prepared," said he, "to give an opinion upon this issue."

The ordinance that is suspended until December was not to become effective until the 1st inst., and was to cover the year ending June 30, 1912. Since then the referendum petition has been introduced, it has been held that its mandate would leave the city without any rates governing telephones. This situation seemed to be the worry of the City Attorney yesterday, and he tried to assure a direct answer to Wallace because the attorneys for the telephone companies were there watching the proceedings; and the City Attorney was very careful that the Council record was made before any new one was adopted.

Attorneys for the telephone companies intimate that at the proper time steps will be taken to make plain their theory of the non-effectiveness of the rates. One of the counsel for the Home company has already given his opinion that the referendum does not affect the rate fixing of the Council, as well as the executive branch, and that the legislative function is directed only toward the legislative function.

Whatever the outcome, for the next six months no one will know what telephone rates are until the companies go into the courts and have the question determined. The ordinance suspended enacted the rates granted the summer company last year as the rates for all companies, but by the method provided for an increase in the rates of the Home Telephone Company.

THOSE FIRE SITES.

NON-PARTISAN EXPLAIN. Wallace didn't do it; neither did Wren, President Pease thought the price all right, but the site too expensive; Dromgoolen said a mistake had been made, and the Council would have to "back water."

That is the way the non-partisan members of the Council "explained" the purchase of the $25,000 engine-house site on the north Union Avenue, yesterday, when the Mayor's message condemning the action was read.

Industrially Wallace said he was responsible for the purchase of a site on Washington street when he did not know the Council had ever bought it; and Wren said he was also responsible as the mover of the purchase of the site, which he had not heard of until he read it in the papers. The clerk explained that it is not his fault if the Councilmen will not listen to what is read and written on them, they do not know about it. It has been the custom in such cases for twenty years to credit the motion to the Councilman in whose ward the purchase is made. Wallace proposed that the Washington-street site be in President Pease's ward. The clerk explained that such motions are not credited to the President, but to the nearest Councilman.

The papers were read and Council chose to fall for the one offered by A. S. Koyer for a lot on Seventh street, facing Beacon street (the same in size as the $25,000 lot), which $25,000 was asked. Several other cheap sites, however, were discarded.

W. H. Earle, who offered the $25,000 site and the one next to it at $20,000, asked to make an offer, and was rejected. The clerk said he was rejected because the site he asked for was "swept up" by him from its owner at $24,000. He amazed the Council by offering the $20,000 lot at $22,000. Koyer said how he had been offered $200 for his site, and the city offered the city, but would not take it as he had agreed to sell the city and would keep his word. As his opinion was not sought, the Council did not hesitate to close with him.

When the city came to consider the Washington-street site, another Earle offered his proposal of $25,000 to be voted on, and the Council turned to the lot offered by Frank P. Cross at $2000. This did not suit Earle, and he cut

DEFIES PROSECUTOR.

Miss Minnie Steffens, sketched in court.

ALTHOUGH told that she might be tried for compounding a felony, Mrs. Minnie Steffens of No. 152 New York street defied the city prosecutor, yesterday, and refused to appear against E. S. Clark. She had previously secured a warrant for his arrest on the charge that he had obtained $240 from her by false pretenses. Later, she begged that the complaint be quashed, declaring she feared the wrath of heaven, but the court denied her a decree.

In her evidence against her husband, Fred B. Heath, Grace Heath said he left her two years ago and is at present employed in the State Hospital at Patton. She said she had not reached her fourteenth year when she was married to Heath. The court granted her a decree.

The Pinkley case occupied the most of the morning in Judge James' court with the cross-examination of Mrs. Pinkley. Mrs. Pinkley also gave much evidence in regard to the alleged infidelity of her husband, and it was intimated that while she had never openly accused him of unfaithfulness, she often had her opinion of the man expressed from the testimony that Mrs. Pinkley had furnished her husband in furnishing public entertainments, and had made something of a reputation in the East as a producer of plays.

Andrew E. Lawson, a grape grower residing near Artesia, was granted a second divorce from his wife, Alice Lawson, by Judge James. Lawson, it is alleged by the sister that the brother, Frank Wood, now has all of the estate left by C. K. Wood, consisting of the real estate described in the May 20th report. The witnesses yesterday were: C. S. Purviance, Will D. Gould, Margaret Purviance, Clement E. Wood, Janie Brown and Iris Purviance.

The contest is between the two children of Wood, Margaret Purviance of Azusa, and Frank Wood of Compton—for the possession of their respective estates, which are estimated at $100,000 each.

Anthony E. Larson, a grape grower residing near Artesia, was granted a second divorce from his wife, Alice Larson, by Judge James. Larson, it is alleged by the sister that the brother, Frank Wood, now has all of the estate left by C. K. Wood, consisting of the real estate described in the May 20th report. The witnesses yesterday were: C. S. Purviance, Will D. Gould, Margaret Purviance, Clement E. Wood, Janie Brown and Iris Purviance.

The deceased, one in 1898, a second in 1900, and a third in 1902. It is the third that is alleged to have disappeared. This document is dated 1902, and it is not known as to when he was given his share during the lifetime of Wood, that the entire estate should go to the sister. In September, 1905, when Wood had received the advance of $32,000, he was taken to the home of Frank Wood, at Compton, from that of his daughter at Artesia, and before he died in December of the next year, it is asserted by the daughter, her father gave Frank a deed for the property on Maple avenue.

It is the contention of Frank's sister that her father was not of sound ment when he died.

INCORPORATION OF COMPANY.

A New-Million-Dollar Pipe Line Builder.
One and Half Millions of Bonds to Issue.

Deeds Filed This Week;
Boats and Wharfs.

This week will be filed articles incorporating for the "Producers"
Company, capitalized $1,000,000, to be the trustees of the San Joaquin Valley Gas and Oil Co. It will be handled by the Independent Agencies, who will be seven directors, among them whose names have appeared on the prospectus of the enterprise. H. W. Welch, S. W. Morse,
R. S. Clark and M. V. Mc-Cormick, all of the independent agencies, and the other two have been named at this time. They are said to be men of experience.

The company will issue $2,000,000 in bonds, which have been already placed, and is learned from excellent sources, also that a portion have been subscribed by the same persons who are the stockholders in the stock which they now own.

The pipe line will be located in Chama, a little settlement in western Kern County, west of the district of the Colorado River, and will run either in or on the edge of the Colorado River, and from point of view that is admirably suited for a pipe line.

The pipe has not yet been purchased,
but the rights of way are obtained, and the negotiations for the purchase of the land have been signed, according to the best information to be had to date has been publicly announced starting actual work.

NEW WHARF LIKELY.

It is thought that a new wharf will be built at Bradford for handling the millings produced. The present facilities are very poor in some respects, and are very poor in others. The wharf is at which any vessel can land all the coal and the people who come to give way for a wagon road, and is absolutely no thoroughfare for a mile. There is not any place to turn over the charge for cap-
pacity.

The land all around is owned by the Union and Standard Oil, who have the right of way for a wagon road, and is absolutely no thoroughfare for a mile. There is not
any place to turn over the charge for cap-
pacity.

Development in the Oro Bells is proceeding rapidly, and the oil will be milling production according to H.
R. McCullum, vice-president of the Big Chief Mining Company, who has just returned from there. Mr. McCullum states the Duluth people back of the Oro Bells are spending a lot of money with good results. Prior to the sale to the Union and Standard Oil, the people were struck on the main vein, and the vein has been drilled 400 feet north of this strike and is still in ore; the vein is six to sixteen feet wide, averaging $3 to the ton from block samples.

A vein has been sunk from the adit level sixty-eight feet showing a material increase in value. A crosscut run to the footwall, near the north end, after going thirty-five feet strikes a main vein of millings that averages $16. A 40-horse-power hoist has been installed and a chart is going down. In the first 100 feet a body of good milling value was uncovered; from this point to 180 feet
this ore was found. At the last named
what is known as the Woodward vein
was entered. Work continued in this vein until the final point where a station is below cut. All the way the ore ran $15 and better.

The company is crossecutting from both the 100 and 200 levels to connect with the main vein found in the adit level, 200 feet west of the shaft. Sinking is to be continued to 1000 feet in an endeavor to find water to operate a milling plant. Meanwhile, it is open to the general public that the company has already uncovered
a vein which is likely to go direct to some may be sold to other companies, and may buy some if it
is the price is right.

the same vein system.

The Big Chief, financed by Providence, R. I., people, has already started development. A 40-horse-power hoist has been installed and a chart
is going down. In the first 100 feet a body of good milling value was uncovered; from this point to 180 feet
this ore was found. At the last named
what is known as the Woodward vein
was entered. Work continued in this
vein until the final point where a station
is below cut. All the way the ore ran $15 and better.

The company is crossecutting from
both the 100 and 200 levels to connect
with the main vein found in the adit
level, 200 feet west of the shaft. Sinking is to be continued to 1000 feet in an endeavor to find water to operate a milling plant. Meanwhile, it is open to the general public that the company has already uncovered
a vein which is likely to go direct to
some may be sold to
other companies, and
may buy some if it
is the price is right.

The Oro Bells is under the personal management of President W. H. Andrews, assisted by J. C. Hartness, superintendent, both of the EDAY, JUNE 9.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Becker delighted a small but intensely interested group of matrons at Simpson Auditorium last evening, the consummate pianistic artistry of Mr. Becker, and the genuine vivacity of his wife have combined to make them very marked figures in the musical world. Their public appearances are few. They do not choose to let their own powers of performance in recital offset those of others. Calhoun has given the many reports that Spreckels for his attack upon business one, and the allegation of his investing in the "Terror." On the trial of Calhoun has given a very strong defense about him. [See "The Post erra." —Ed. Times.]

The government must have known it. The country would be at least in one city the man who did that in San Francisco. Mr. Jerome failed, for one reason, that Messrs. Spreckels, who are fighting the people's cause, wish to make today is not the former cannot turn away from government himself without immediate retribution. The hand which comes from the people's own democratic means, and not from a handful of men fusing the cause of a business rival of ours of wrong. Undoubtedly, we are a counsel of perfection; a monstrous conspiracy; so every possible means must be used to ferret out the criminal in such matters one by one. Let us utilize the power that falls to this man to make the other desirable nor practical, while the public sentiment is becoming to methods and motives.

BY COURTESY.

At Ocean. Her sun is in the sign of the Cancer. She is in position where he will be with the moon, an aspect favorable to travel and action and surgery and Venus in trine and for the moon are all in aspects to her.

This aspect rules the intellect, and, but intermingling a little, the heart. The governs the fortunates pleasure and the elements of love and desire to extravagance in money, society or amusement. No exercise of prudence today in her affairs, and a lot of other uses which women know. Here are values which are, to say the least, unusual:

Her son is turned over to a season of indecision, a form of entertainment which the patrons of this playhouse have always manifested a desire and popularity. The first show will be "No Mother to His Son," in which according to the press agent, a young American actress will lend her services and incidentally be accompanied by a band of brave cowboys, it is claimed that "Bunco in Arizona" will have the same type of melodrama as the previous season has known for years, and in the matter of excitement it compares very favorably with "The Round Up," the season's big blank cartridge success.

Her players will compose the new stock company include George Morrison, leading man; Lawrence Cheneau, John McDonald, and George Field.

Grace Raworth, the newly leading woman of the Thanhouser Company of Milwaukee, will play the second, and the feminine leads will be played by Sophie Dalton, a handsome young actress, and Alice Lewis, the wistful, winsome, vivacious, and precocious day for courtship, she should benefit from the.

Her birth this will probably bring about brilliant ideas during the summer, the direction of finance of a good card, however, against overexposure.

Under aspects like these travel and their acute judgment will make the day best be guarded against to display themselves.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MRS. CHARLES RIVERS DRAKE and Miss Pauline Drake of South Hoover street and Mrs. John Kingsley Macomber, Jr., left yesterday for New York, en route to Europe. Mrs. Drake and her daughter will be abroad about a year, and will spend much of their time in London.

Miss Ginter's Bride.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. G. M. Ferguson of No. 1554 Pleasant avenue. Another cousin, Miss Pearl Cole, assisted as maid of honor. She was dressed in a white lingerie gown over silk and carried a hill of the bouquet. John Kwei was best man. Miss Ginter wore an elaborate creation of crimson messaline, made Empire, with trimmings of pearl and lace. A wreath of orange blossoms was tucked behind her and she carried a white prayer book. Rev. Alfred Inwood officiated, and the music was in charge of Frederick Grossman. The decorations were particularly attractive. The bride was dressed in the traditional white. The dress was done up, the only light coming from two large wedding bells, beneath which the young people stood. Guitars and white flowers and ferns were basketed in the room. At the conclusion of a short trip, Mr. and Mrs.

a surprise party recently in celebration of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Almee. The hostess was assisted in entertaining the young guests at the table, Mrs. H. M. Walenstein of San Francisco.

THE POPPY.

By my path I saw a poppy,
Marked its silky golden cup,
Stayed my pace awhile and, stooping,
Broke the stem and picked it up;

But the wind stripped off the petals
As I passed along the walk,
Stripped the satiny corolla,
Left a plain, uncomely stalk.

So I dropped it on the pavement,
Counting it of little worth, Dropped it where the passers-by might Bruise and crush it to the earth.

Yet within that tip there slumbered,
Waiting for the springtime showers,
Countless satiny corollas,
Myriads of golden flowers.

Thus with all earth's show and glamor,
Idle trinkets of a day,
That delight, amuse and shortly
Wither up and pass away:

But the uncouth, the ungainly,
Often harbors latent power,
Holds a value more enduring
Than a swiftly fleeting flower.

Get Well

Nearly All Women

suffer, more or less, from female complaint. There are so many symptoms due to this trouble that no two women suffer alike. However, whether your trouble is pain in the side, head, or limbs, dizziness, nervousness, or some other ill from the same source—don't neglect it. Take Cardui—it has helped thousands of other ladies and it is only reasonable to believe it will help you. With the record it has made don't you think you owe it to yourself to give Cardui a fair trial?

Cardui is a tonic, strength-building medicine for women, composed of pure, harmless, vegetable ingredients.

Mrs. Sallie H. Blair, of Johnson City, Tenn., tried Cardui. Read her experience: "I had suffered from womanly trouble for 16 months, before I used your great medicine. I had 4 doctors attending to my case, but they could not help me, and I endured great suffering until I began to take Wines of Cardui. After taking two bottles, I found great relief, so I continued until I had taken 8 bottles, now I feel I am about well. I cannot enough in favor of Cardui."

Cardui is for sale at all druggists. Get a bottle at once and get well. You'll be glad you tried it.

TRAINELOADS OF ELKS.

In the long-continued trouble over selection of a superintendent over the school, the election of Dr. A. J. Moore, one of the largest land owners in the valley, was set aside for a second election. The last election was held in 1913, and has been in abeyance for two years, and is worth not a cent. Yet it is alleged that the tract never has been open for entry for some time. The new locators are Ed. L. and the Garcettes of Phoenix, who have the right to enter the tract of large extent for ostrich raising. It has been announced that the tract will be opened for entry for domestic and manufacturing uses.

SANTA FE NOT IN IT.

After a long delay, new lands have been filed upon this tract, though few of the large parcels have been accepted. A report that the Santa Fe Company had attempted to place 40,000 acres of scrip in the market, was denied by the company, who state that they were the only to get half-sections for themselves. The Glendale Beet Sugar Company has received several thousand acres of land, and expects to have another tract of 10,000 acres for irrigation purposes.

The tract of land in the Agua Fria watershed, both the stream and underground, has been condemned for irrigation purposes, and a dam has been built across the stream, and plans have been made for irrigating the land for domestic and manufacturing uses.

Hamburger's

SAFEST PLACE TO TRADE

A TRUE SUCCESS Our semi-annual White Fair is a success indeed.

It started with a vengeance and almost every one who came proved a satisfied purchaser before she left. There were crowds of customers indeed, but not any more customers than there were hundreds and hundreds of genuine bargain items. That's going to keep up all week. It is a case of proving what cash buying and cash selling will do for a big store.
